Proclaim

Ken Colson

Monday, Day 16

And I saw another angel flying through the sky, carrying the eternal Good News to proclaim to the people who belong to this world—to every nation, tribe, language, and people. Revelation 14:6 (NLT)

Look! Up in the sky!

Birds fly. Planes fly. I cannot fly! However, if I could, you would hear loud shouts of amazement and joy. The whole countryside would hear my voice!

Angels are gifted with unique abilities. Since I have never met nor exchanged pleasantries with an Angel, let's merely say that Angels are God's special messengers. They carry news to God's people. Why?

Angels brought news to prophets, kings, ordinary people and eventually to shepherds in fields outside the village of Bethlehem. Their good news was proclaimed loudly so anyone could hear. Did you notice the word, "proclaim"? This word is more than merely announcing. The angels annunciated...trumpeted.....broadcasted. They proclaimed The Good News.

This Good News is much too important to simply speak it. The Gospel is The Eternal Good News of Jesus, and since Angels rise to the occasion of Proclaiming it, perhaps we should annunciate that Jesus is coming and He is the Good News. In fact, let's proclaim with our whole being, To say it in more contemporary language..."Sound off...loud and clear!"

Proclaiming...it's not just for Angels and prophets! We are called to Proclaim!

Proclaim...God promised! Advent – God is coming to us.
